

Argentine network cabinet manufacturers

Article Overview

Forli and TecnoBox are leading Argentine manufacturers of network and electrical cabinets, offering customizable solutions for industrial and IT applications.

Key Manufacturers

Forli Forli has over 55 years of experience producing metal and plastic cabinets for electrical and networking installations. They offer customized designs tailored to project requirements, including special enclosures outside standard stock. Their production system is IRAM-certified, ensuring compliance with Argentine quality and safety standards. Forli also maintains a nationwide distribution network, enabling fast and reliable delivery across Argentina . TecnoBox TecnoBox specializes in metal cabinets designed for various environments, including CCTV and industrial monitoring systems. They provide customized solutions based on client specifications, emphasizing robustness and reliability. TecnoBox is recognized for its high-quality enclosures for industrial and petroleum sectors, with a focus on durability and user-friendly design . Additional Suppliers Platforms like Trademo list multiple cabinet manufacturers and suppliers in Argentina, providing trade data, shipment details, and contact information for businesses seeking network or electrical enclosures .

Considerations for Selection

- Customization: Both Forli and Tecnobox offer tailored solutions for specific project needs.
- Material Options: Metal and plastic cabinets are available depending on environmental and technical requirements....
