

Complete power distribution box with price

Article Overview

The cost of a complete power distribution box typically ranges from $50 for small residential units to several thousand dollars for industrial-grade systems, depending on specifications and features.

Residential Distribution Boxes

For standard residential applications, single-phase distribution boxes with basic circuit breakers and fuses generally cost $50 to $300. These units usually include a main switch, a few branch circuit breakers, and basic safety features. Higher-end residential boxes with smart monitoring, digital displays, or weatherproof enclosures can cost $300 to $800 .

Commercial and Industrial Distribution Boxes

Commercial and industrial units are larger, often three-phase, and designed to handle higher current loads. Prices vary widely based on amperage, number of circuits, and integrated features such as metering, remote monitoring, and IP-rated enclosures. Typical costs range from $500 to $5,000 or more for fully equipped main distribution boards (MDBs) or switchboards . Customization, such as OEM branding, modular busbars, or outdoor-rated enclosures, can further increase the price .
